

Poznań, May 5, 2021

Dear Sir or Madam,

We would like to kindly invite you to the international academic conference Agricultural, Food, and Environmental Law in the face of challenges regarding food security which is organized by the Department of Agricultural and Food Law, and Environmental Protection at the Faculty of Law and Administration of the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. The conference will be held on June 30, 2021, online, via MSTeams. The language used during the event will be English.

Food security is the foundation for the development of countries and regions all around the world. However, it is a complex challenge to guarantee food security. Achievement of this goal requires an approach that integrates many various elements of legal, economic, social, or environmental character. In an attempt to include all of these important aspects, we suggest dividing the conference into the following thematic panels and we encourage you to deliver a speech within one of them and participate in the discussion:

1. Agriculture and land management
2. Food systems, food supply chains, trade, and economy
3. Environmental challenges

Please, submit your proposed topics of papers to be delivered with an abstract (of no more than five sentences) by June 5, 2021, via the application form to: conference30june2021@gmail.com.

Considering the significant interest in the conference, we will do our best to make it possible for everybody to deliver their speeches. However, because of time constraints, the organizers may be forced to choose only some papers to be delivered during the conference.

Yours sincerely

Organizers:

Department of Agricultural and Food Law, and Environmental Protection
